China-Tanzania bilateral ties: Celebrating 60 years of partnership, economic growth

THE Tanzania-China bilateral cooperation has evolved beyond traditional government contacts, expanding into strong people-to-people connections. Today, Tanzanians and Chinese citizens often refer to each other as 'Rafiki', meaning 'a friend' in Kiswahili. This friendship, built over decades, reflects the unique and enduring relationship between the two nations. It was initiated by Tanzania's founding fathers, the late Mwalimu Julius Kambarage Nyerere and Zanzibar's Abeid Amani Karume, alongside China's Chairman Mao Zedong. Recently, the Chinese Embassy in Tanzania celebrated the 75th anniversary of the proclamation of the People's Republic of China (PRC) that was made by Mao Zedong, the Chairman of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), on October 1, 1949. The event that dramatically reshaped China's modern history, has since then been on a path of rejuvenation and growth. IPP Media.

Keir Starmer, Britain's prime minister as of July 5 and a former human rights lawyer, says ceasefires among Israel, Hezbollah and Gaza are needed to stop the "rising tide" of conflict in the Mideast. Starmer said that diplomacy, releasing the hostages kidnapped by Hamas on Oct. 7 and an unfettered flow of humanitarian goods into Gaza are short-term necessities. Yet, he made no mention of the documented human right abuses by Israel in its war in Gaza and its dismissing the International Court of Justice advisory opinion that Israel's decades-long occupation of Palestinian territory is illegal. Starmer, 62, delivered his maiden speech to the United Nations General Assembly on Sept. 26. Pass Blue.
