South Africa says silence from US on bid for talks, China pledges support

South Africa's foreign minister Ronald Lamola said on Monday that the United States had not responded to attempts to discuss President Donald Trump's executive order cutting off aid but that China had pledged support. Trump cut U.S. financial assistance to the country this month, citing disapproval of its land reform policy and genocide case against Israel at the International Court of Justice. "Despite all our attempts, through our mission in Washington to formally engage and communicate... we are awaiting feedback and a response. We're hopeful that they will find a moment to ... have the discussion with us," Lamola told Reuters in an interview in the main commercial city of Johannesburg. Reuters.

South Africa's Largest Private Solar Project to Power Chinese Chrome Smelting Factory

A Chinese consortium is developing a 100-megawatt solar power project in South Africa's Limpopo Province to provide renewable energy to Samancor Chrome, one of the region's largest minerals-processing companies. The project is a partnership between Samancor, CGN Africa Energy—a Chinese company specializing in non-nuclear power generation—and the China-Africa Development Fund, a state-backed venture that supports Chinese investments in Africa. The solar plant will be built in two phases, with the first 60 megawatts scheduled for completion ahead of the full 100-megawatt capacity. At full capacity, this power is enough to power 80,000 average homes in South Africa. China Global South Project.

Kenya, China committed to deepening trade ties through strategic initiatives

China and Kenya are committed to strengthening their trade relationship through strategic initiatives that promote mutual benefits and economic growth. This commitment was reaffirmed on Monday during a meeting between Chinese Ambassador to Kenya Guo Haiyan and Kenya's Trade and Investments Cabinet Secretary Lee Kinyanjui. During the meeting, Kinyanjui reiterated that China remains a key trade partner and revealed that both sides are exploring additional market opportunities for Kenyan traders and products in China. "Our discussions focused on strengthening trade ties, including increasing cargo flights to China to facilitate the export of fresh produce," said Kinyanjui. KBC Digital.

China calls for expert panel's mandate to align with timeline of sanctions against Sudan

China at the United Nations on Monday called for the mandate of the Panel of Experts assisting the 1591 Sudan Sanctions Committee to align with the sanctions timeline. The UN Security Council on the same day extended the mandate until March 12, 2026. Resolution 2772 (2025) was adopted by a vote of 13 in favor to none against, with China and Russia abstaining. Speaking after the vote, China's permanent representative to the United Nations Fu Cong said that the misalignment between the renewal cycles for the Panel's mandate and the relevant sanctions regime is against the common practice of the Council. ### China anger as US amends wording on Taiwan independence

The US State Department has dropped a statement from its website which stated that Washington does not support Taiwan's independence – a move which has sparked anger in China. China said the revision "sends a wrong... signal to separatist forces advocating for Taiwan independence", and asked the US to "correct its mistakes". The department's fact sheet on Taiwan-US relations earlier included the phrase "we do not support Taiwan independence" – this was removed last week as part of what it said was a "routine" update. A US spokesperson was quoted as saying that it remains committed to the "One China" policy, it said, where US recognises and has formal ties with China rather than Taiwan. Club of Mozambique.
