

Ethiopia's ambassador hails 55 years of 'deep-rooted, multifaceted' ties with China

As Ethiopia and China celebrate 55 years of diplomatic relations, Ethiopia's ambassador to China has hailed the "deep-rooted, multifaceted" ties between the two countries. Both Ethiopia and China have enjoyed strong ties and their relationship has evolved into an all-weather strategic partnership, Ambassador Tefera Derbew Yimam said. China Daily.

100 Chinese electric buses hit streets of Ethiopian capital

The Addis Ababa City Administration has introduced 100 electric buses across Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia, as part of an effort to promote electric mobility in the East African country. Assembled by the local company Belayneh Kindie Metal Engineering Complex, with components imported from China, the new fleet of electric buses is equipped with integrated Intelligent Transportation System and Fare Collection System technologies, the Ethiopian Broadcasting Corporation reported Tuesday. Xinhua.

China's EV advances drive new opportunities for Egypt's auto sector: industry leader

China's rapid advancements in electric vehicles are creating fresh opportunities for Egypt's automotive industry through deeper cooperation, says Khaled Geyushi, vice chairman of leading Egyptian bus manufacturer Geyushi Automotive. #GLOBALink Xinhua.

Egypt, China discuss waste management investment

Yasser Abdullah, CEO of the Waste Management Regulatory Authority at the Ministry of Environment, held talks with a delegation from the Chinese company Sinoma, led by Zhao Danhui, Deputy Chairman of the company's operations in Egypt. The discussions focused on potential cooperation in investing in alternative fuel, particularly the production of Refuse-Derived Fuel (RDF), and integrating it into the energy systems of cement factories. Bahrain News Agency.

South Africa ships first avocados to China

South Africa is set to expand its avocado exports to China following the recent market opening. A 40ft container with 21 tons of avocados has already been shipped to China in 2024. This accounts for a mere 0.03% of South Africa's total avocado exports of 81,012 tons. Derek Donkin, CEO of the South African Subtropical Growers' Association, highlights the potential for growth in the Chinese market, noting its rapidly expanding upper-middle class. Fresh Plaza.

Kenya, China strengthen trade and investment ties

National Treasury CS John Mbadi Ng'ongo met China's Finance Minister Lan Fo'an to discuss financing infrastructure projects, enhancing bilateral trade, and boosting Kenya's exports to China. "Kenya values its economic partnership with China, which has significantly contributed to our national development," Mbadi stated, calling for increased Chinese investment in energy, technology, and infrastructure. Capital Business.

Uganda Seeks Stronger Economic Ties with China

Uganda is intensifying its efforts to attract Chinese investment in its mining and petroleum sectors. The country recently hosted the inaugural Uganda-China (Liaoning) Mining and Petroleum Investment Promotion Conference in Shenyang, China. This high-profile event showcased Uganda's rich natural resources and investment-friendly policies, emphasizing the country's readiness to partner with Chinese investors. The conference followed the elevation of Uganda- China relations to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership in 2024, reinforcing deeper economic cooperation. Voice Of Nigeria.