

China, Africa achieve new progress in bilateral economic, trade cooperation

In recent years, under the strategic guidance of the leaders of both sides, China-Africa economic and trade cooperation has made steady and substantial progress. Trade between the two sides has grown steadily. In 2024, trade between China and African countries reached $295.6 billion, a year-on-year increase of 4.8 percent, setting a new record for the fourth consecutive year. People's Daily Online.

AU Commission chair hails China's support for Africa's development

Chairperson of the African Union (AU) Commission Mahmoud Ali Youssouf reaffirmed appreciation for China's steadfast support to the AU Commission and African countries in key areas, including trade, infrastructure development, agriculture, health, and capacity building. Youssouf made the remark while bidding farewell to Hu Changchun, head of the Chinese Mission to the AU, according to a statement issued on Wednesday. China Daily.

Trump urged to seize Africa opportunity amid China's rise, says Brookings Report

As Africa moves to the center of global economic and strategic importance, a new Brookings Institution policy brief urges the Trump administration to craft a bold, forward-looking U.S.-Africa strategy that aligns American interests with Africa's rapid transformation. The report highlights four key pillars — power, prosperity, peace, and principles with soft power — through which the United States can reassert its global leadership and counter growing Chinese and Russian influence on the continent. The North Africa Post.

Kwame Taylor-Hayford on taking D&AD programming into India, China and Nigeria

"We are so excited to take our programming to India, to Mexico, to Shanghai and many places in Africa including Nigeria, South Africa, Ghana," says D&AD president Taylor-Hayford. I'm speaking to him at the D&AD Festival. He's the first US president of the organization, which started in the UK in 1962 to promote excellence in design and art direction. The Drum

China-Nigeria relations not exploitative, says NCSP DG

The Director General and Global Liaison, Nigeria-China Strategic Partnership (NCSP), Joseph Olanukanmi Tegbe, has said the relationship between Nigeria and China is not exploitative in any way. Mr. Tegbe, who was speaking at a book launch on Wednesday in Abuja, said Nigeria's relationship with China has been mutually beneficial. The Guardian Newspaper

Ethiopia showcases tourism potential to global audience at ITB China 2025

Ethiopia actively promoted its diverse tourism offerings to a wide international audience at ITB China 2025, held from May 27 to 29 in Shanghai, the Ethiopian Embassy in Beijing told Fana Media Corporation. ITB China is a three-day travel trade fair focused on the Chinese travel industry but attracts global travel suppliers and buyers. The event provides a key platform for connecting with the world's largest source market for international tourism and travel through exhibitions, conferences, and networking sessions that foster international tourism cooperation and business growth. Fana Media Corporation.

Egypt Captures Attention at ITB China 2025 with Strong Tourism Growth and Strategic Vision

Egypt Captures Attention at ITB China 2025 with Strong Tourism Growth and Strategic Vision Shanghai, China – 28 May 2025 (News Aktuell).- Egypt concluded its participation in ITB China 2025 with a high-impact press conference that drew the attention of international media and travel professionals. Led by Ahmed Youssef, the CEO of the Egyptian Tourism Authority, the delegation outlined Egypt's tourism strategy for the Chinese market—emphasizing Egypt's latest developments in the country's tourism sector and future strategy. Cultura y Ucio.

China to send peacekeeping officers to South Sudan

A total of 12 Chinese peacekeeping police officers will fly to South Sudan to carry out peacekeeping missions in the early hours of May 22, as announced by the Ministry of Public Security on Monday. A departure ceremony for the 10th Chinese peacekeeping police unit to the United Nations Mission in South Sudan was held at the ministry's training base of the peacekeeping police force on Monday.